DETAILED ACTION

The prior art rejection is withdrawn from claims 1, 2 and 4-11 since the reference fails to teach or suggest the required molar ratio of elemental chlorine. The prior art rejection is maintained with regard to claims 12-22, since these claims do not require the molar ratio of elemental chlorine to starting compound:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 12-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tuazon.

Applicant has not shown how the process in the rejected claims differs from the oxidation of CHClF_2 taught in the reference.

The following is a new ground of rejection:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 23-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The new claims recite that a ratio of CHClF_2 or CF_3 to oxygen content is at most 1:1. However, this ratio is not supported in the specification, specifically, at page 4, where the oxygen content is described: "[t]he molar ratio between the starting compound and oxygen may vary within a wide range, but at least 0.4 mol of oxygen per mole of starting compound is appropriately used". The oxygen may also be used in excess. Particularly good results are achieved when the molar ratio between the starting compound and the oxygen is in the range from 1:0.4 to 1:5, preferably from 1:0.4 to 1:1, in particular from 1:0.4 to 1:0.9 [emphasis applied]". Accordingly, a ratio of CHClF_2 or CF_3 to oxygen content 1:1 or less is a range that is not supported when the specification indicates that at least 0.4 mol of oxygen per mole of starting compound is appropriate.

Claims 1, 2 and 4-11 are allowed.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
